US Dollar Rate vs Indian Rupee Rate

The U.S. Dollar to Indian Rupee conversion ratio has moved dramatically in our company's favor each year since inception.

Today, for much fewer investment dollars, we can get the same number of Indian rupees.

The Dollar is the currency used in the United States and the Rupee is the currency used in India.

Our US dollar today purchases more rupees than ever before which is extremely positive for US investors who are currently investing into India. (See charts below).

1 Dollar today purchases 75 rupees.

When we started our business in 2010,
1 dollar purchased 46 rupees.

This could have gone the other direction, but rather it moved dramatically in our favor.
